We, William Hunchester e/o Harper and How, Publishers How York, Now York

Peer Mr. Menchester:

Rince you were countssioned by hebert F. Kennety, who was the U.S. Albergor Concret and is now Senatur, to write the historiant record of "The Death of a Fracident," John F. Kennety—I on pointing out soweld innouractes in your recording of history in references to the undersigned.

After Maving sat in on the official investigation and occupied an affice in the Mational Archives, you called and contacted people for interviews as the appenints, entrusted representative commissioned by the Mannedys, as you stated your position to me over the telephone.

Your statements referring to me as retired are false. The truth is efficially recorded and was so recorded under the administration of the two Lamedys. I am not "retired." I am "resized."

You list my mane as one of the people whom you interviews which alleges my responsibility, in part, for your views and the historical record produced by you and forbert F. Ennedy.

Since you hist my name many those with whem you had a face-to-face personal interview (as though I were one of them) — this listing under this pretent and somestation is false. I have never soon you.

The repeated this falsaheod on HEC's "Neet the Press" program Fob. 18, 1967, by stating that Marina Oswald "... Was the one person who declided to see me,"

Now attempt to get an appointment with me through two telephone calls while you were in Mulias was unsweezeaful, in appointment was demiced by the answer that our interests had too little in common to waste the time.

The importance that you placed upon yourself and your mission through Kannacy beining and commissioning was immediately recognized as an approach so unascoptable that their foolish and bracen. It was pertherizely so because of spillification, which officially freed no free over having to deal with any Empodes or free participating in any of their settinities or recognizes. Not, your commissioner and your publisher are hereby informed that the printing and further distribution or disconniction of any and all references to an (references which include other fellow instantions in tentions and which fall equally maker the protect of my bulks p conference in a historical reserved are objected to. It is which my rights to bulk you to discontinue those sections to, the distribution and discontinue time of them, and any references to me, at eases.

hully yours,

Mivin A. Walker
